NATURE: BORN IN THE ROCKIES
WED 10TH & 17TH, 8 PM
COMPPELLING STORIES THAT awaken your curiosity. Breathtaking vistas that help you exhale more deeply. Extraordinary animals that dazzle with their intelligence, ferocity, and beauty—and attract legions of superfans with their super cuteness.

Welcome to the wonderful world of Nature!

The Emmy and Peabody Award-winning series that inspires people to discover the wonder and beauty of our natural world continues its 40th season with The Elephant and the Termite (Wed 3rd, 8 p.m.). In arid regions across Africa, the waterhole is where animals visit to drink, some creatures are born and die, and predators wait in ambush. Filmmakers Mark Deeble and Vicky Stone (Nature: The Queen of Trees) spent two years at a waterhole in Kenya to record life there. Witness the dramas of Africa’s great wildlife meeting place and the creatures that call it home—from mighty elephants to tiny termites.

Next, journey deep into the wild heart of the Rocky Mountains and experience this rugged land through the eyes of its wildlife in the two-part special Born in the Rockies (Wed 10th and 17th, 8 p.m.). Follow courageous animal families—a herd of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep and their newborn lambs, a mother grizzly bear and her cubs, and a flock of sandhill cranes and their offspring—as they struggle to survive through the seasons in one of the most challenging and spectacular habitats on Earth and face off against predators, the elements, and sometimes even each other.

Enjoy an encore of My Life as a Turkey (Wed 24th, 8 p.m.)—just in time for Thanksgiving!—and look for more Season 40 premieres in the coming months, including Penguins: Meet the Family, American Horses, and a second installment of Animals with Cameras.

We’re also pleased to debut Going Wild with Dr. Rae Wynn-Grant, a new Nature podcast available free on Apple Podcasts, Spotify, and other podcast listening apps. Join the acclaimed wildlife ecologist as she journeys to remote jungles, savannas, tundras, mountains, and deserts to study wild animals in their natural habitats and protect their futures—from lemurs in Madagascar to bears in the Sierras.

Nature episodes will also stream at pbs.org/nature and the THIRTEEN app (thirteen.org/anywhere).

REMEMBERING Worthington Mayo-Smith

A longtime patron of The WNET Group, Legacy Society member and music lover, Worthington (“Bill”) Mayo-Smith passed peacefully at age 95 last summer. Bill loved the inspiring arts programming on PBS, especially Great Performances’ New Year’s celebration from Vienna and A Capitol Fourth. He enjoyed music that was bright, jubilant — and rousing. His love of brass instruments extended to his own family, and he never missed a performance by his grandson, an accomplished trombone player. Bill’s dedication to WNET and its performing arts programming will have a lasting impact because of his thoughtful gift planning.

Bill felt it was important to help rising generations and provide access to enriching programming and the finest musical performances. His late wife, Margaret Collette Mayo-Smith, shared his passion for education and the arts — so Bill made it a priority to provide for their public broadcasting station.

On behalf of the board and staff of The WNET Group, and millions of viewers, thank you, Bill Mayo-Smith, for your exceptional generosity and vision.

Secrets of the Dead: Hindenburg’s Fatal Flaws
Wed 10th, 10 p.m. • pbs.org/secrets

IN 1937, THE HINDENBURG airship exploded into flames upon landing and 36 people were killed in the horrifying crash, shocking the world and sealing the fate of airship travel forever. For decades, the exact cause of the Hindenburg’s crash has remained a mystery. Recently discovered letters, maintenance reports, and company memos reveal the unfortunate errors that led to the disaster. Experts now suspect that, had critical construction flaws been fixed, the airship might not have crashed.

AS TEENAGERS, VALENTE VALENZUELA and his brother Manuel volunteered for the military and fought in Vietnam. They came home decorated, but also physically and psychologically scarred. Fifty years later, they’re facing deportation—along with thousands of American military veterans in danger of being deported due to misdemeanors committed after completing their service. The brothers don their uniforms for one last fight to “leave no soldier behind” and bring the plight of deported veterans to the White House.

THE BELOVED COMIC BALLET about an eccentric toymaker who invents a life-sized dancing doll gets a contemporary reboot in this new interpretation, based on a 2008 stage production by Dutch National Ballet. Doctor Coppelius is a charismatic plastic surgeon whose quest to build the perfect robot woman threatens the romance and lives of a couple who falls under his spell. The film blends live action ballet and animation, and features international ballet stars Michaela DePrince and Daniel Camargo.
