Hooray for Summer!

Cyberchase, Camp TV, and More!
AS THE SCHOOL YEAR comes to an end and we welcome the first days of summer, kids everywhere are doing a happy dance—and parents, grandparents, and other caregivers are looking for ways to keep their children active and engaged during the summer break. If you fall into the latter category, look no further than Camp TV and Cyberchase, The WNET Group’s award-winning kids’ series guaranteed to keep the youngsters in your life learning all summer long.

Let the learning adventures begin!

HAPPY CAMPERS

Camp TV, public media’s series for kids ages 5-10, brings the magic, learning, and fun of the day camp experience to your living room. Season 3 premieres in July with 10 new episodes (on-air weekdays at 12 p.m. and online, beginning July 5), but kids can catch up on Seasons 1 and 2 now at camptv.org.

This live action summer series debuted in 2020 in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, which shut down summer camps across the country. Providing fun activities and learning adventures for kids missing out on the summer camp experience, it is hosted by a head counselor played by exuberant Broadway performer Zachary Noah Piser (Dear Evan Hansen, Wicked), who guides campers as they learn through play. Comedian, writer, and filmmaker Mia Weinberger (Molly Shannon’s Tilly the Trickster, The Notorious RBG) joins Zach as co-counselor in the new season.

Zach kicks off each episode with a welcome song and then the day’s theme is announced, which in Season 3 will include Unicorn Day, Carnival Day, Magic Day, and more. Join the dynamic Camp TV duo as they guide campers through a variety of activities, exploring nature, math, science, the arts, movement, storytelling, writing, self-care, and more. Each episode includes special appearances by experts and teaching artists from leading cultural and educational institutions across the New York metropolitan area and beyond.

Major funding for Camp TV is provided by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, a private corporation funded by the American people. Additional funding was provided by The Charles and Lucille King Foundation, the New York City Council through the New York City Department of Education, the Alice Lawrence Foundation, Pine Tree Foundation of New York, and The Peter G. Peterson and Joan Ganz Cooney Fund.

Funding for Cyberchase is provided by The JPB Foundation, the National Science Foundation, EY, and Overdeck Family Foundation. Additional funding is provided by the Lemberg Foundation, Epstein Teicher Philanthropies, the Tiger Baron Foundation, and Dr. Shailaja & Umesh Nagarkatte. as well as a storytelling segment featuring a different book of the day. The series will also spotlight content from PBS stations across the country.

MIGHTY MATH & SCIENCE

Ready for some math-powered fun? Cyberchase, the award-winning, animated math and environmental learning series produced by The WNET Group for kids ages 6-8, celebrates its 20th anniversary with new episodes, new interactive games, and more.

The final episodes of the new season premiered in May, but kids can stream all 10 episodes of the 20th anniversary season—as well as a veritable treasure trove of episodes from past years—at pbskids.org/cyberchase.

Join intrepid heroes Jackie, Matt, Inez, and Digit as they tackle timely environmental topics ranging from light and water pollution to sustainable design and biodiversity, using their math and problem-solving skills to save the day in Duck Stop, The Great Outdoors, Coral Grief, Sustainable By Design, Traffic Trouble, A Garden is Born, and more episodes.

Cyberchase fans can also sharpen their math skills through a variety of fun, educational digital games on the Cyberchase website (pbskids.org/cyberchase) and PBS KIDS Games app (pbskids.org/apps). The brand-new Duck Dash game invites children to use math skills on a high-flying migration adventure, and kids can enjoy some fashionable fun with an all-new game launching this coming July.

In the new digital learning game (fabulous name coming soon!), players help Jackie, Matt, and fashion designer Fabio DeZine create unique clothing designs using upcycled garments. Along the way, they’re introduced to important math and environmental science concepts of geometry, counting, simple addition and subtraction, and environmental sustainability. The game will have accessibility features to support students with a variety of physical and cognitive impairments.

Also this summer, Cyberchase is excited to continue its popular “Green It Up” initiative, offering hands-on activities and printables designed to inspire an appreciation for nature, build STEM skills, and help kids feel empowered to be environmental stewards. Head over to wnet.org/education/greenitup for these inspiring and fun resources on how to plant a container garden, make your own compost bin, protect pollinators, and more.

Teachers can join in on the Cyberchase fun, too. Elementary teachers can dive into a wealth of new free Cyberchase environmental resources covering sustainable design, coral reefs, migration, and more on PBS LearningMedia (pbslearningmedia.org).

Cyberchase airs weekdays at 3 p.m. and Sundays at 9:30 a.m. on THIRTEEN, and Monday thru Sunday at 2 p.m. and 10 p.m on our 24/7 Kids channel, THIRTEEN PBSKids (kids.thirteen.org). Enjoy episodes, games, educational resources, and more at pbskids.org/cyberchase.
A VISIONARY DOCTOR who led the battle against childhood AIDS. A unique retirement community that LGBTQ+ residents can truly call home. A young couple’s journey with love, medicine, and miracles. These are just a few of the inspiring stories featured in our June programming line-up celebrating LGBTQ+ Pride Month.

We begin with a local superhero: Dr. James Oleske, a New Jersey-based doctor who first discovered the AIDS virus in children and whose story is told in Don Quixote in Newark (Wed 8th, 10 p.m.). Oleske was a pediatric immunologist at St. Michael’s Hospital in Newark in the early 1980s when he made the startling observation that his young patients were showing signs of the new and unknown syndrome recently discovered in gay men and intravenous drug users. Experts in the field told him it was impossible, and the press labeled him an alarmist. But he persisted, conducting painstaking frontline research and eventually establishing the first major Pediatric AIDS program in the country.

Next, enjoy a front-row seat for Mika—Live at the Paris Philharmonic (Fri 10th, 9 pm), the global pop star’s sold-out 2021 concert featuring a full orchestra, choral singers, and special guests. When the Lebanese-born British singer-songwriter burst onto the music scene in 2007 with his debut album Life in Cartoon Motion and the chart-topping hit single “Grace Kelly,” Q Magazine declared, “It is, triumphantly, among the most camp mainstream pop records ever made.” Join the classically trained superstar, whose glittery, glamorous style has earned him comparisons to Elton John, Freddie Mercury, and Rufus Wainwright, as he performs “Toy Boy,” “Tiny Love,” and other hit songs.

It’s a Match (Mon 13th, 10 p.m.) tells the heartwarming story of Alana and Lori—two women in their 20s looking for love online when a casual right swipe made a match that would bind them. within a few weeks of meeting, Lori learned that Alana—who has lupus—has been on a wait list to receive a life-saving kidney transplant for years. Against all odds, Lori learns she is a candidate for donation and decides to bestow Alana with the ultimate gift. The documentary follows the pair throughout the organ donation process, from doctor appointments through their surgeries at Stony Brook University Hospital.

The Lodge (Tue 14th, 10:30 p.m.) offers an inside look at Fountaingrove Lodge in Santa Rosa, California, a first-of-its-kind retirement community especially created in 2013 for LGBTQ+ seniors and their straight allies. According to filmmaker Pam Walton, one third of LGBTQ+ seniors over 50 expect to hide their sexual identity if they move to a retirement community. “LGBTQ+ couples are often not allowed to room with each other. The loneliness and isolation of aging are often compounded by discrimination,” she said in an interview with SAGE National Resource Center on LGBTQ+ Aging. Residents of The Lodge since 2017, married filmmakers Walton and Ruth Carranza are uniquely qualified to tell the story of the people who live there.

Harvey Fierstein hosts True Colors: LGBTQ+ Our Stories, Our Songs (Thu 23rd, 8 p.m.), a festive Pride celebration filled with uplifting stories and songs. Fierstein hosts the documentary segments with performances by Indigo Girls; drag artists Peppermint, Alexis Michelle, and Jujubee; Glee star Chris Colfer; trans opera singer Breanna Sinclair; and Tony, Emmy and Grammy Award winner André de Shields.

Revisit the fascinating history and exuberant artistry of Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo (The Trocks) in a special encore of American Masters: Ballerina Boys (Fri 10th, 10 p.m.). Other encores include The Lavender Scare (Mon 6th, 10pm), a look at the four-decades-long witch hunt that began in 1953 when President Eisenhower declared homosexuals “security risks” and ordered the firing of government employees suspected of being gay or lesbian, and Independent Lens: Cured (Mon 20th, 10 p.m.), the story of activists who fought back in 1973 when homosexuality was considered a mental illness to be “cured.”

There’s also no shortage of Pride Month specials on our ALL ARTS channel. Antonio Lopez 1970: Sex Fashion and Disco (Fri 10th, 10 p.m.) captures the hedonism of the 1970s through the eyes of legendary fashion illustrator Antonio Lopez, featuring his friends and muses, including Bill Cunningham, Grace Jones, and Jessica Lange. Latine theatermakers explore how a new millennium for queer identity and storytelling took shape in the South Bronx in The First Twenty: Queer Latine Voices at Teatro Pregones (Mon 13th, 7:30 p.m.). Tune in (see channel list on page 20), watch online at allarts.org, or with the ALL ARTS app.

SET IN THE 1920S on the Italian Riviera, this new, six-part historical drama series follows Bella Ainsworth (Natascha McElhone, Californication), the daughter of a wealthy industrialist, who heads to Italy to set up a quintessentially British hotel in the stunning town of Portofino while fascism is on the rise following World War I. Also starring Anna Chancellor (Downton Abbey) as Bella’s imperious aunt, Lady Latchmere, and Mark Umbers (Home Fires) as Cecil, Bella’s aristocratic but dishonorable husband.

Hiding in Plain Sight
Mon 27th and Tue 28th, 9 p.m.

THIS TWO-PART FILM, executive produced by Ken Burns, examines the mental health crisis among youth in America, focusing on the importance of awareness and empathy. Through first-person accounts from people ranging in age from 11 to 27 living with mental health conditions—as well parents, teachers, friends, healthcare providers, and mental health experts—it presents an unvarnished window into daily life with mental health challenges, from seemingly insurmountable obstacles to stories of hope and resilience.
