THE U.S. AND THE HOLOCAUST

A Film By Ken Burns, Lynn Novick & Sarah Botstein

Premieres
Sun 18th, 8 p.m.
HOW CAN WE LEARN from the past? Acclaimed filmmaker Ken Burns asks that profound question in his new documentary, The U.S. and the Holocaust, premiering this month on THIRTEEN.

The three-part, six-hour series, directed by Burns, Lynn Novick, and Sarah Botstein and narrated by Peter Coyote, explores America’s response to one of the greatest humanitarian crises of the 20th century. Inspired in part by the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s “Americans and the Holocaust” exhibition, the film examines the rise of Hitler and Nazism in Germany in the context of global anti-Semitism and racism, the eugenics movement in the United States, and race laws in the American south—revealing how as the catastrophe of the Holocaust unfolded in Europe, the United States was unwilling to open its doors to more than a fraction of the hundreds of thousands of people seeking refuge.

Through riveting firsthand testimony of witnesses and survivors who endured persecution and violence as their families tried to escape Hitler, the series delves deeply into the tragic human consequences of public indifference, bureaucratic red tape, and restrictive quota laws in America. It tackles questions relevant to our society today, including how racism influences policies related to immigration and refugees, and how governments and people respond to the authoritarian states that manipulate history and facts.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Charles Lindbergh, Dorothy Thompson, Rabbi Stephen Wise, and Henry Ford are among the historical figures in the film, as well as Anne Frank and her family, who applied for but failed to obtain visas to the U.S. before they went into hiding.

“History cannot be looked at in isolation,” Ken Burns says. “While we rightly celebrate American ideals of democracy and our history as a nation of immigrants, we must also grapple with the fact that American institutions and policies, like segregation and the brutal treatment of indigenous populations, were influential in Hitler’s Germany. And although we accepted more refugees than any other sovereign nation, America could have done so much more to help the millions of desperate people fleeing Nazi persecution.”

JOIN THE CONVERSATION
To enrich the conversations in The U.S. and the Holocaust, The WNET Group’s Exploring Hate: Antisemitism, Racism and Extremism initiative and MetroFocus series are partnering to create content related to the series, including a special edition of MetroFocus featuring filmmakers Ken Burns and Sarah Botstein that will air the week of September 12th and be available to stream at metrofocus.org and pbs.org/exploringhate. Visit thirteen.org/community to learn about free virtual community engagement events. Educational resources are available in the “Ken Burns in the Classroom” collection at pbslearningmedia.org.

100 Years From Mississippi
Thu 22nd, 10 p.m.

IN 1915, AT THE AGE of seven, Mamie Lang Kirkland left Ellisville, Mississippi with her family to escape racial violence. This film, directed by her son Tarabu Betserai Kirkland, follows her return to Ellisville 100 years later, chronicling the remarkable life story of a woman who experienced and survived racial terrorism, segregation, bigotry, and bias, and yet continued to have hope, joy and love of life, full of the certainty that we can do better.

Great Performances: Intimate Apparel

Fri 23rd, 9 p.m. • pbs.org/gperf

THIS OPERA ADAPTATION OF Pulitzer Prize winner Lynn Nottage’s play tells the story of Esther (Kearstin Piper Brown), a lonely, single African American woman who makes her living sewing corsets and ladies’ undergarments in 1905 New York. Her affection with an Orthodox Jewish fabric seller is socially taboo, but she embarks on a letter-writing relationship with a mysterious suitor. Bartlett Sher directs this co-commission of The Met Opera and Lincoln Center Theater, featuring a libretto by Nottage and music by Ricky Ian Gordon.
