American Masters

GROUCHO & CAVETT

TUE 27TH, 8 P.M.
THE FIRST TIME Dick Cavett met Groucho Marx was at the Frank E. Campbell funeral chapel, the historic New York City “funeral home to the stars.” It was June 1961 and the funeral was for playwright George S. Kaufman.

After the service, Cavett introduced himself to Marx and told him that he was a big fan. Without missing a beat, Marx quipped, “Well, if it gets any hotter, I could use a big fan.”

American Masters explores the enduring friendship between the Emmy Award-winning television personality and the legendary comedian who became his mentor in Groucho & Cavett, premiering on THIRTEEN, pbs.org/americanmasters, and the THIRTEEN app (thirteen.org/anywhere).

Written, produced, and directed by Robert S. Bader (Ali & Cavett: The Tale of the Tapes, Dick Cavett’s Vietnam, Dick Cavett’s Watergate; author, Four of the Three Musketeers: The Marx Brothers on Stage), the film chronicles the pair’s relationship through new interviews with Cavett, footage from Marx’s visits to The Dick Cavett Show, and other rare recordings.

At the time of his serendipitous first encounter with Groucho Marx, the 25-year-old Yale-educated Nebraska native was a writer for Jack Paar on The Tonight Show. When Cavett made the transition from writer to comedian in 1965, he was encouraged and mentored by Marx. In 1968, Cavett became the host of his own talk show on ABC. Marx became a frequent guest, showcasing what Cavett calls, “the last of Groucho’s greatness.”
This greatness is brilliantly on display throughout Groucho & Cavett with archival footage of Marx performing some of his most beloved musical numbers: Harry Ruby and Bert Kalmar’s “Hello, I Must Be Going” (from Animal Crackers) and “Show Me a Rose,” E.Y. Harburg’s “Lydia, the Tattooed Lady” (from At the Circus), Irving Berlin’s “Stay Down Here Where You Belong,” and Gilbert & Sullivan’s “On a Tree By a River,” a charming duet with Cavett.

The film also includes archival interviews from The Dick Cavett Show with comedian and television host Jack Paar; George Burns, comedian and friend of the Marx Brothers; composer E.Y. Harburg; Woody Allen, comedian, filmmaker and friend of Groucho Marx; Erin Fleming, Groucho Marx’s companion and manager; comedian and actor Dan Rowan; and Broadway star Phyllis Newman.

Broadway superfans will take great delight in footage of Shelley Winters’ 1970 appearance on The Dick Cavett Show, where she talks about playing the Marx Brothers’ mother in the Broadway musical Minnie’s Boys. Another notable highlight: Groucho Marx hilariously—and unexpectedly—proposing marriage to Truman Capote during the author’s 1971 appearance on the show.

While Groucho Marx is perhaps best known for his uproarious movies with the Marx Brothers such as A Night at the Opera and Duck Soup, his popular television quiz show You Bet Your Life, his quick wit and trademark look—the dark-rimmed glasses, fake eyebrows and mustache, and omnipresent cigar—Cavett observes in the film that Marx was a highly articulate, voracious reader whose greatest ambition was to be a writer.

Despite his humble beginnings—his family’s poverty forced him to leave school and go to work at age 12—Marx wrote six books and was a frequent contributor to many magazines. With the publication of his humorous article “Vaudeville Talk” in 1925, he was one of the first contributors to The New Yorker.

“I was prouder of that than I was of any play I’d ever been in, or in vaudeville or in the movies,” Marx says in the film.

Groucho & Cavett also includes moving footage from Remembering Groucho, the retrospective that aired on ABC, co-hosted by Cavett and Harry Reasoner, following Marx’s death in 1977.

“When I first met Groucho, I was 25 and he was 70,” Cavett says in the special, “but it seemed to me that we were the same age.”
THERE’S NO PLACE like THIRTEEN for the holidays—from festive specials that celebrate the joys of the season to uplifting music programs and binge-worthy dramas. Whether you’re staying local or traveling, going out on the town or getting cozy at home, we hope you enjoy the holiday treats we’ve lined up to help make your December merry and bright.

The festivities begin on an uplifting note with O Holy Night: Christmas With the Tabernacle Choir (Tue 13th, 8 p.m.). Tony-nominated Broadway star Megan Hilty (Noises Off, TV’s Smash) and acclaimed actor Neal McDonough (Suits) join The Tabernacle Choir and Orchestra at Temple Square for an Irish-inspired edition of the heartwarming annual celebration of music and holiday traditions. Highlights include “Home for the Holidays,” “The Holly and the Ivy,” and “Deck the Halls.”

Fans of The Great British Baking Show and its judge extraordinaire Mary Berry won’t want to miss Mary Berry’s Ultimate Christmas (Mon 19th, 9 p.m.), the ultimate guide for a fool-proof Christmas dinner. Packed with Berry’s classic recipes for a delicious three-course feast, this mouth-watering special will help you prep, shop, and plan before the big day itself for a stress-free holiday.

Set almost entirely in a Chinese restaurant, the irreverent documentary Dreaming of a Jewish Christmas (Mon 19th, 10 p.m.) tells the story of Irving Berlin and other Jewish immigrants who, enamored with Broadway and Hollywood, wrote some of the most popular and beloved Christmas songs: “White Christmas,” “The Christmas Song,” “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer,” and other classics. The film features rarely seen archival footage, musical performances, and interviews with Jackie Mason, Alan Dershowitz, Ophira Eisenberg, Ben Sidran, and more.

Kick off your Christmas Day with a special encore of Great Performances: Anything Goes (Sun 25th, 3:30 p.m.). Sutton Foster reprises her Tony-winning performance as brassy, sassy evangelist-turned-nightclub singer Reno Sweeney in the celebrated West End revival of Cole Porter’s classic musical.

Join the nuns and wives at Nonnatus House for a memorable Christmas in an all-new Call the Midwife Holiday Special 2022 (Sun 25th, 9 p.m.). With Christmas approaching, the midwives move to their maternity clinic and are delighted when their first patient is a familiar face. Life in Poplar returns to normal after the tragic train crash, and everyone unites for a festive talent show.

There’s no shortage of holiday cheer on our ALL ARTS channel. Get in the holiday spirit with a lively Nutcracker Marathon (Sun 18th, 12 noon-12 midnight) featuring eight back-to-back productions of the beloved ballet; the world premiere of author James Patterson’s holiday special Young People’s Chorus of New York City’s Holiday Special: Topsy Turvy New York (Wed 21st, 8 p.m.); The 31 Days of Christmas Music (Thu Nov 24th-Sun Dec 25th; visit allarts.org/schedule for programs and air-times); ALL ARTS Yule Log (Sat 24th, 8 p.m.); and a Christmas Day marathon of The Carol Burnett Show: Carol’s Favorites (Sun 25th, 12 p.m.-3 a.m.). Tune in (see channel list on page 20), watch online at allarts.org, or with the ALL ARTS app.

Ring in the new year with an encore of Atlantic Crossing on Masterpiece (Sat 31st, 4-6 p.m.; 7 p.m.-1 a.m.), followed by United in Song: A New Year’s Eve Special (Early Sun Jan 1st, 1 a.m.), a star-studded concert featuring the American Pops Orchestra. The festivities continue as Downton Abbey’s Hugh Bonneville hosts From Vienna: The New Year’s Celebration 2023 (Sun Jan 1st, 8 p.m.). The annual Vienna Philharmonic concert from Great Performances, filmed at Vienna’s opulent Musikverein, showcases beloved Strauss Family waltzes, the dancing of the Vienna State Ballet, and the sights of Vienna.

American Masters: The Adventures of Saul Bellow
Mon 12th, 8 p.m. • pbs.org/americanmasters

EXPLORE NOBEL AND PULITZER PRIZE winner Saul Bellow’s impact on American literature in the first-ever major documentary on the writer. The film illuminates how Bellow transformed modern literature and navigated through the issues of his time—including race, gender and the Jewish immigrant experience—through rare archival footage and interviews with Philip Roth, Salman Rushdie, and many others. It traces Bellow’s rise to eminence and examines his many identities: reluctant public intellectual, “serial husband,” father, Chicagoan, and Jewish American.

Nature Cat: A Nature Carol
Sun 25th, 8:30 a.m. • kids.thirteen.org

IN THIS HOMAGE to A Christmas Carol, Nature Cat is bursting with Christmas spirit, and wants to celebrate with lots of presents—for himself!—and by decorating the woods with bright lights and loud music. His great big Christmas celebration upsets his friendship with Daisy, Hal, and Squeeks and bothers the animals in the woods. Will a visit from the spirits of Nature Past, Present, and Future help Nature Cat finally see the true meaning of Christmas?
